Input Service refund under Inverted Duty Structure is allowed

- There are number of writ petitions filed at various Honorable High Courts challenging the explanation (a) to Rule 89(5) of CGST Rules, 2017 (CGST Rules) being ultra vires to the provision of section 54(3) of CGST Act, 2017 (CGST Act) which denies the refund of "unutilized input tax" paid on "input services" as part of "input tax credit" (ITC) accumulated on account of inverted duty structure. Recently, a two-judge bench of the Honorable Gujarat High Court has categorically held that the said explanation is ultra vires the provision of the Act. The Honorable High Court also further noted that the net ITC formula used for GST refund under the inverted tax structure can cover input services as well..

- Section 54(3) of the CGST Act allows refund of any unutilized input tax credit at the end of any tax period due to an inverted tax structure and there is no specific mention of goods (inputs) or services (input services) alone. Thus, the provision covers both services and goods. However, Rule 89(5) of CGST Rules defines a formula for calculating the amount of ITC refund due to the inverted tax structure. The maximum refund {(Turnover of inverted rated supply of goods and services) x Net ITC ÷ Adjusted Total Turnover } – tax payable on such an inverted rated supply of goods and services

- However, the net ITC in this formula is defined as input tax credit availed on inputs during the relevant tax period. It does not see a mention of input services. However, the components of the above formula, turnover and output tax refers to services as well.

- In the present case, VKC Footwear India Pvt. Ltd. (VKC Footwear or the Company) is engaged in the business of manufacture and supply of footwear which attracts GST at the rate of 5%. The Company procures input services for use in the course of business and avails input tax credit of the GST paid thereon. The majority of the inputs and input services attract GST at the rate of 12% or 18%. Therefore, in spite of the utilization of credit for payment of GST on outward supply, there is an accumulation of unutilized credit

- The judgment was passed on VKC Footwear where other matters were also clubbed. Following were the key points of submission:

  - It is well settled law that Rule made by executive cannot curtail or whittle down the provisions of the Act

- The explanation (a) to the Rule 89(5) of CGST Rules cannot be sustained even under general rule making power conferred by Section 164(1) of CGST Act

- Granting of refund of input tax credit on inputs and denying refund in respect of input service is also violative of Article 14 of the Constitution of India and hence bad in law

- The amended Rule 89(5) of CGST Rules results in perpetual retention / appropriation of unutilised input tax credit on services by the Government contrary to the intention of the legislature as evidenced from the object and scheme of the Act which would therefore amount to indirect levy of tax without authority of law under Article 265 of the Constitution of India

- The amended Rule 89(5) of CGST Rules is also discriminatory since refund for zero rated is allowed even for input services.

- No intelligible differentia which has a rational nexus to the object sought to the achieved is perceptible.

- The Honorable High Court considered the submission with its own analysis and held that

  - The intent of the Government by framing the Rule restricting the statutory provision cannot be the intent of law as interpreted in the Circular No.79/53/2018-GST dated 31 December 2018 to deny the registered person refund of tax paid on “input services’ as part of refund of unutilised input tax credit

  - Explanation (a) to Rule 89(5) of CGST Rules which denies the refund of “unutilised input tax” paid on “input services” as part of “input tax credit” accumulated on account of inverted duty structure is ultra vires the provision of Section 54(3) of the CGST Act

  - The said explanation (a) of Rule 89(5) of the CGST Rules is held to be contrary to the provisions of Section 54(3) of the CGST Act. In fact the Net ITC should mean “input tax credit” availed on “inputs” and “input services” as defined under the Act.

  - The respondents are therefore, directed to allow the claim of the refund.

DA's Comments: The decision has given major and significant relief to various industries such as textiles, railway locomotives & parts, handlooms, solar modules, e-commerce, steel utensils, mobiles, etc. as now a taxpayer operating in an inverted tax structure environment can get a higher refund of unutilized ITC covering inputs and input services. Being it's going to have major impact on exchequer revenue, we need to look whether the Government files appeal to Honorable Supreme Court or consider the option of amendment in CGST Act retrospectively to counter the judgment. There are number of aspects which the Company needs to evaluate into their respective inverted duty structure claims before applying the said judgment.

VKC Footsteps India Pvt Ltd Vs Union of India and 2 Other(S) [2020-TIOL-1273-HC-AHM-GST]

Vehicle Body Chassis's fabrication is a supply of services

- The company is engaged in the various businesses including manufacturing of Chassis, Trucks & Buses, Engines, Bus body, and automotive components. The applicant has different manufacturing units/manufacturing verticals in the state of Madhya Pradesh registered separately under the GST law
- The Company relied on the circular no. 52/26/2018 dated 9 August 2018 read with notification no. 20/2019- CT (Rate) dated 30 September 2019 to determine the applicable rate
- The ruling is sought on the issue whether the supply towards the provision of services in respect of activity of mounting fabrication of bodies on chassis provided by customer should be treated as supply of bus or provision of services in respect of activity of mounting/fabrication of bus body on the chassis wherein the said activity of mounting/fabrication is outsourced to the company by owner/provider of chassis in two scenarios:
  - The chassis is originally manufactured by one of the units of the applicant registered separately as a distinct person under the GST Act and sold to the provider of chassis receiving the chassis for the fabrication of the body
  - The chassis is originally manufactured by some other OEM (Original Equipment Manufacturer) and sold to the provider of chassis before receiving the chassis for the fabrication of the body.
- The AAR held that the supply towards the provision of services in respect of activity of mounting/ fabrication of bodies on chassis provided by Customer should be treated as supply of bus or provision of services services in respect of activity of mounting/fabrication of bus body on the chassis wherein the said activity of mounting/fabrication is outsourced to the company by owner/provider of chassis, in no case, the ownership of the chassis belongs to the company. Thus, in both the scenarios mentioned in the question will be taxable under SAC 998881 'Motor vehicle and trailer manufacturing services' and under entry no. 26(iv) as 'Manufacturing services' on physical inputs (goods) owned by others and it is taxable at the rate of 18%.

DA's Comments : There are number of representations filed by Bus Body Builders Associations on various issues including classification and rate applicability. The Government has already issued the circular and number of advance rulings has also been issued. However, there are still certain aspects and transactions needs more clarification.

M/s V E Commercials Vehicles Ltd. [AAR Madhya Pradesh 09/2020 dated 9 June 2020]

Alcohol based sanitizers are not essential commodity and liable at higher rate

- The Company filed AR to Goa AAR with two queries:
  - First, the classification of hand sanitizer;
  - Secondly, whether a hand sanitizer as an essential commodity, will be exempted from GST?
- The AAR has ruled out that Alcohol-based hand-sanitizers attract a GST rate of 18% and merely classifying any goods as an essential commodity will not be criteria for exempting such GST.
- The Bureau of Central Intelligence had cautioned alerted the GST authorities regarding such alcohol-based sanitizers manufacturers who are levying 12% GST on such products by making wrong classifications categorizing them erroneously as "medicaments" under tariff heading 3004 rather than as "disinfectants" under tariff heading 3008 which would have caused them to pay GST at the rate of 18%. In a letter dated 10 June 2020 having reference No. F. No.562/INT/DOGI/HQ/2018/17025 to 17045 to principal commissioners, the director-general of GST Intelligence has alleged that this has led to "substantial evasion" of tax. Further, the authorities have analyzed data for 62 manufacturers and have asked field to verify if other producers, including distillers and sugar mills and, have "miss-classified" the product that is being used across households and offices

- Further, the Finance Ministry clarified that "Various chemicals, packing materials and input services etc. used for the manufacture of hand sanitizers also attract a GST rate of 18%. Reducing the GST rate on sanitizers and other similar items would lead to an inverted duty structure and put the domestic manufacturers at a disadvantage vis-a-vis the importers of hand sanitizers". The Government also maintained that consumers would also eventually not benefit from the lower GST rate if domestic manufacturing suffers on account of inverted duty structure..

DA's Comments : The reasoning in AAR and clarification by Finance Ministry should be on the basis of GST law and any factual and other reasoning should not be the basis to decide on the rate applicability

- The company is providing Project Management Consultancy Services to APPRED (Andhra Pradesh Panchayat Raj Engineering Department) for Andhra Pradesh Rural Road Project (APRRP) Project which is for connectivity of all unconnected habitats of 250+ population in the state of Andhra Pradesh. The Roads are to be constructed under the APRRP Project for providing connectivity to these villages.   - Review & verification of the Project DPRs

The AAR has given ruling covering following aspects:
- Whether the services rendered by the applicant are pure services.

  There is no component of supply of goods in any invoices. Hence, they are classifiable as pure services, excluding the possibilities of works contract service and other composite supplies involving supply of any goods
- Whether the service recipient i.e., APPRED is qualified for either of the following, namely., Central Government, State Government or Union territory or local authority or a Governmental authority

  APPRED, functions directly under the Ministry of Panchayat Raj & Rural Development and thus qualifies to be a Technical Wing of the Department of PR& RD of the AP State Government.

M/s Consulting Engineers Group Limited [AP AAR AAR No.17/AP/GST/2020 dated: 13 May 2020]

Reimbursement for damage beyond repair of equipment /tools is classifiable as 'Supply of Goods'

- The company is a global service provider, engaged in providing various oilfield services to exploration and production companies across the globe. Presently, the company has contracted for supply of bundled oilfield services to support the various oil and gas related operations in KG Offshore, East Coast of Indian Offshore waters

- While performing the aforesaid services, at certain instances the equipment / tools used by the company for supplying oilfield sendees get stuck / lost / damaged due to uncontrollable or unforeseen down hole environmental situations in the oil and gas well and might not be retrievable. In such cases, the company receives reimbursement from the Customer towards such LIH equipment in terms of Clause 31 of the Contract entered by the Applicant with ONGC.

- The company sought an advance ruling on determination of liability and consequent classification to pay GST on reimbursement received towards Lost in Hole / Damages beyond Repair equipment (collectively referred as 'LIH equipment') by the company under the Contract with the Customer

- The AAR ruled that it is found that the equipment/tools are tangible and movable. The amount of reimbursement of equipment/tools which are damaged beyond repair or loss is at an agreed depreciated value of the Original FoB (Free on Board) Price of such equipment/tools. Going by the methodology and by nature of the equipment/tools, the activity of reimbursement towards Lost in hole/Damage Beyond repair of equipment /tools is rightly classifiable as 'Supply of Goods' in terms of Section-7 of the CGST Act, 2017, depending upon the nature of actual goods involved in the subject activity, their classification is as per HSN notified for the goods and the classification rules made in this regard. Accordingly, the provisions relating to chargeability and levy of GST under the CGST Act and the Rules made there under as applicable to the supply of goods will apply.

DA's Comments: Liquidated damages cannot be considered as supply and it is also internationally accepted that not liable to GST/VAT. There are number of ruling which held that its liable to GST and leads to continuation of dispute

M/s Halliburton Offshore Services Inc. (LIH) [AP AAR - AAR No.16/AP/GST/2020 dated 13 May 2020]

ITC not available on lift installed in the building

- The company is into the business of hotel and started construction of the Hotel and completed a major part of its work and sought an advance ruling whether Input tax credit on Purchase of Lift would be available to Hotel as it has been used in the course or for the furtherance of business.

- The AAR ruled that he input tax credit of tax paid on lifts procured and installed in hotel building shall not be available to the applicant as the same is blocked in terms of Section 17(5) d) of the CGST Act 2017 and become an integral part of the building.

DA's Comments : Whether ITC available on building for business use is a debatable point. The earlier judgment of Orissa High Court in the case of Safari Retreats Private Limited held that ITC is allowed on goods and services used for construction of immovable property and used in the course or furtherance of business.

M/s Jabalpur Hotels Private Limited [MP AAR MP/AAR/10/2020 dated 08 June 2020]

Composite supply of furniture along with services is not immovable property

- The Company is engaged in supply, installation and fixing of customized furniture as composite supply and got contract for doing the similar activity for Mantralaya, Government of Madhya Pradesh and charging at the rate of 18% applicable to principal supply. The quotation was given item wise for each product. Further, the invoice issued by the company was item-wise and consolidated transaction price was charged. The installation/fixation charge are not separately charged in the invoice, nor these charges are required to be charged item wise

- The question was raised before AAR (Authority of Advance Ruling) whether such supply is composite supply of goods or to be considered as works contract services provided to State Government and accordingly rate applicable.

- As per sr. no. 1 of heading 9954 (Construction services) of notification 11/2017-Central Tax (Rate) dated 28 June 2017, the rate of tax is 12%. The State Government claimed that the said contract is works contract services and the rate applicable is 12%.

- AAR held that the claim by the state Government is not legally tenable. The supply, installation and fixing of furniture customized or not cannot be considered as works contract as the items of furniture are made at the supplier's place which have been only installed or fixed at the place of recipient. Further, it does not result in the immovable property or it is not going to be part of immovable property. Thus, the said transaction is composite supply where principal supply is of furniture and the rate applicable is 18%.

DA's Comments : There are number of advance rulings for determining whether any transaction is composite supply in the nature of supply of goods or services and also different ruling of the similar transactions by various State AARs. CBIC needs to issue circular/clarification to have consistent rulings and classification.

M/s Methodex Systems Pvt. Ltd. [AAR Madhya Pradesh – 08/2020 dated 5 March 2020]

Coal Handling and distribution charges liable at higher rate

- The company is engaged in the business of supply of coal across India and procures coal from domestic as well as international markets. The company submitted that they paid 5% GST for inter-state and intra-state purchase of coal and 5% IGST for the imports and stocked the coal at a designated place on the port and supplied it to the customers from there and numerous services are availed between the procurement and final supply of coal

- The company sought the ruling whether 18% GST will be charged on the coal handling and distributor charges if such supplies are meant to go to the customers directly, or 5% GST just like that in the case of the supply of coal and whether the applicant will be allowed to avail GST for the supply of coal and the supply of coal handling and distributor charges.

- The AAR ruled that coal handling and distributor charges will attract 18% GST for supplies instead of 5% if such supplies are made expressly to the consumer. Further, it was held that input credit availed as per the conditions specified in section 16 of CGST Act, 2017 shall be allowed for discharging the liability towards the supply of coal and supply of coal handling and distribution charges respectively

DA's Comments : The ruling did not clarify on the rate applicability in case of composite supply of coal along with handling and distribution charges. The illustration given under the definition of composite supply covers similar transaction on which rate is determined based on principal supply

Refund along with interest on closure of factory and penal charges on officer for delaying the refund

- In the case, the Honorable CESTAT allowed the amount of CENVAT credit lying in their account upon closure of the factory, along with interest at the rate of 6% per annum. Accordingly, the Company had approached the jurisdictional adjudicating authority but the refund was rejected on the ground of unjust enrichment and the amount was ordered to be credited to the Consumer Welfare Fund. The only reason for withholding the refund is that the Department has preferred an appeal before the High Court against the order of the Tribunal and that too accompanied by delay condonation application.

- The Honorable High Court held that amount has been withheld by the adjudicating authority for extra legal reasons; that once the Tribunal had clearly held that the Company was entitled to refund of the amount, there was no reason for the adjudicating authority to withhold the said amount by not making the payment of the Company and keeping it under "Consumer Welfare Fund" only on the pretext that the Department may in future file an appeal. No orders can be passed on the basis of apprehension or assumption that something may happen in future and deprive the petitioner which is a private limited company and will be requiring funds

- Accordingly, the Honorable High Court directs that the interest of 6% would be payable up to the date when the amount was credited in the account of the Consumer Welfare Fund and after that date the Company should be entitled to higher rate of interest, say 18%, till the date of actual payment and the excess amount of interest so paid to be recovered from the officers found responsible for not making payment in time after due inquiry by the Department. Further, the Company should be entitled for costs of the petition which could be fixed at Rs.1,00,000/- which amount may also be recovered from the erring officers after due enquiry.

DA's Comments : The said decision is learning for the department to consider the case on merits and does not allow any officer to use its own discretionary power to undue delay the assessment and refunds

Notification effective from the date of publication in the Official Gazette

- The Company has challenged the notification issued by the Customs Department dated 1 March 2018 under Section 25 of the Customs Act, 1962 on several grounds that relate to the transaction of import of Crude Vegetable Oils in bulk by the company for manufacture of Soya Food products. It is the contention of the Company that the said notification dated 1 March 2018 was updated on 2 March 2018 and came to be published in the Official Gazette on 6 March 2018. The company has come up with a case that if the notification was published only on 6 March 2018, the same cannot have any application on the transaction of the company carried out prior to the said date, and cannot compel to pay any enhanced rate of duty.

- As per section 25(4) of Customs Act, 1962, every notification issued under subsection (1) or sub-section (2A) shall, unless otherwise provided, come into force on the date of its issue by the Central Government for publication in the Official Gazette. In the case of M.D.Overseas Ltd. v. UOI and others [2019-TIOL-2779-HC-DEL-CUS], it was held that notifications would come into force on their publication in the Official Gazette, i.e. in the present case, with effect from the date and time when they were electronically printed in the Gazette.

- The Honorable High Court relied on similar issue judgment in the case of the company i.e. Ruchi Soya Industries Ltd. v. UOI and others [MANU/AP/0325/2019] which held that sub-section (4) of Section 25 of Customs Act, 1962 created absurdity, confusion and friction. In view of our foregoing discussion, Section 25(4) of the Customs Act, 1962 is declared as arbitrary and contrary to Section 25(1) and (2A) of the Customs Act, 1962 and that the department is liable to repay the amount collected from the company for clearance of imported goods for home consumption beyond the original rate prevailing on the date of prior to date of publication of notification with interest paid by the company from the date of deposit till the date of payment.

DA's Comments : The principle relied upon and laid down on the date of applicability of the notification is relevant for all laws and legislation and needs to be looked into before its application from effective date.

M/s Ruchi Soya Industries Ltd vs. UOI and others [2020-TIOL-1263-HC-MAD-CUS]

Expenses incurred as Pure Agent not liable to Service Tax

- The Company is providing clearing and forwarding service and getting paid towards the reimbursable expenses additionally in the nature of depot expenses, weighing of machine charges, empty cartons charges, diesel expenses, housekeeping expenses etc. Accordingly, the Company contended that from the entire demand confirmed by the adjudicating authority under Order-in- Original, the amount needs to be dropped which is purely reimbursable expenses received by it as pure agent from principal companies. Further, the amount related to using its own truck is also a reimbursable expense as principal companies have discharged their service tax liability upon this amount under "Goods Transport Agency service" under reverse charge mechanism.

- The Honorable CESTAT held that the issue pertaining to reimbursement of expenses incurred by the Company on account of service recipient working as pure agent for his principals, the same is not includable in the assessable value for charging service tax. This view has also been expressed by Supreme Court in Union of India vs. Intercontinental Consultants and Technocrats Pvt Ltd. [2018. (10) GSTL 401 (SC)]. Further, it is also held that the law passed today cannot apply to the events of the past. If we do something today, we do it keeping in view the law of today and in force and not tomorrow's backward adjustment of it. This principle of law is known as "lex prospicit non respicit": law looks forward not backward. The issue remanded back to review computation of final tax liability

DA's Comments : Pure agent reimbursement is always being challenged in erstwhile Service Tax regime and the demands have been raised by the adjudicating authority accordingly. The detailed judgment in the case of Inter Continental from the Honorable Supreme Court is mostly relied upon as in the said case also. The concept of pure agent is relaxed under GST law in compare to erstwhile service tax law and need to see in future how adjudicating authority consider such cases.

Safeguard duty extended on import of Solar Cells and modules/panels

- The CBIC has extended the safeguard duty on imported solar cells and solar modules by another year as recommended by the Director-General of Trade Remedies (DGTR) earlier this month.

- Safeguard duties can be imposed on items, over and above existing customs duties, if it can be conclusively proved that a steep increase in imports over a period of time resulted in injury and disruption for local businesses. The DGTR under the Ministry of Commerce and Industry carried out an investigation for a possible extension of the safeguard duty based on requests made by the domestic industry. It observed that two years of protection has already helped the domestic industry improve its position, but it still needed some time to adjust. Therefore, a one-year extension of the safeguard duty should be allowed. Based on the DGTR's report, safeguard duties of 25 percent were imposed from 30 July 2018, to 29 July 2019, and at 20 percent from 30 July 2019 to 29 July 2020.

- A safeguard duty rate of 14.90 percent will be imposed on solar cells and modules starting for the first six months starting July 30 (minus anti-dumping duty payable, if any) and 14.50 per cent for the subsequent six months, as per a notification issued by the CBIC. The duties will not apply on any developing country with the exception of China, Thailand and Vietnam
